- *To be received by ITHSA
- New students should be registered within One month of starting a course
- Late examination and assignment registration fees will apply after the published date has expired
- All payments must be received by the ITH before students are registered for the exam
- Paid postponements must be submitted two weeks before the exam. Medical Certificates must be received no later than two weeks after the exam.
- Culinary Theory exams can happen at any date, however, the ITH must be informed at least 6 weeks in advance.
- Culinary dishes must be sent to the ITH for approval by CTH examiner at least 6 weeks in advance.
- All evidence for culinary qualifications specified in the relevant Qualification and Assessment Handbook should be submitted at one time, except for theory exams.
- Moderation of all Units will take place after the 'last date for evidence' above for every Assessment session. Where there is evidence missing, the CTH will not moderate the work, and an absent grade will be awarded and students must be registered for a resit of the affected units and submit the evidence before the next session deadline.
- Examination papers written must be sent back to the ITH immediately (within 24 hours of the exam sitting).
- Career Skills Assessments or examinations may be taken at any time, as long as the student has pre-registered on the qualification and the assessment date has been notified to the CTH with at least 3 weeks' notice.
- Exam papers not returned to the ITH within 24 hours of the last exam may miss the result declaration date and transferred to the next assessment series at a cost to the centre
- The Schedule for an examination and assessment session may occasionally be subject to change up to 3 months prior to the start of a particular session. Centres and students should always refer to the latest schedule available on the ITHSA website for confirmation of a particular session schedule.
